We've survived a snow-filled week—and we deserve some kudos and connection! Please come to this week's "Welcome Back" events for faculty/staff, designed to mix food and fun while showing off our great work relating to "Students at the Center" and "Knowledge in Action."

Spring 2023 "Welcome Back" for Faculty & Staff

Stop by as many events as possible!

- Thursday, January 26: "Students at the Center": Appreciations/Workshop/Showcase: all events in the Ballroom
 - 1:00-2:15: Socializing over Lunch, followed by Campus Updates
 - relax over lunch, with appreciations and interactive campus updates led by colleagues—updates start at approx 1:20
 - 2:15-3:45: Learning Design Workshop
 - connect with colleagues through an interactive and engaging session led by the Center for Teaching & Learning
 - 4:00-5:00: Student Success Showcase (in a "Speed Dating" Format!), plus Food and Drink
 - over 20 faculty/staff colleagues will welcome you to tables that showcase our "student success" work
 - enjoy a quick rotation through tables—share info and ideas through our lively speed-dating format
 - 5:00-6:00: Socializing over Food and Drink continues
- Friday, January 27: "Knowledge in Action": Food Tour/Open Houses at Multiple Locations: location/food map to follow
 - 12:00-2:00: "Progressive Lunch" Food Tour—go to Open Houses at different locations
 - Go to different sites on campus to sample different types of food and learn of different forms of "knowledge in action"
 - Enjoy workshops, demos, and conversations at each site, such as the Academic Hub and Center of Southwest Studies
 - Location/food map to follow!
 - We will entice you to visit at least three locations and sample three types of food!
