3rd Annual Photo Contest

Department of Anthropology
Fort Lewis College

Deadline: November 14, 2014

Theme: An Anthropological Perspective
An anthropological perspective changes how you see the world and the people around you. In your travels, cross-cultural experiences, field work, research, and daily life, how has anthropology shaped what you see?

The Department of Anthropology welcomes submissions of photographs for its second annual photo contest. The winner of the contest will receive a prize of $100.00. The winning entry, along with entries earning an “honorable mention,” will be exhibited on the second floor of the Center of Southwest Studies.

Eligibility: All Fort Lewis College students, majors and non-majors, are eligible to participate.

Rules: Please submit your digital photograph along with a cover letter including your full name, class status, declared major/minor, the title of your photograph, the location (city, state, country) where it was taken, and a brief description of the scene and why you think it relates to anthropology. You may submit multiple photographs, but each requires its own cover letter and description. Digital file requirements: 1) 300+ dpi resolution; 2) RGB color or grayscale; and 3) in TIFF (or JPEG) format.

Entries can be e-mailed or delivered to Laurel Baldwin in CSWS 273 (l_baldwin@fortlewis.edu). Submissions will be evaluated by anthropology faculty and the winner will be announced before finals week.
