Mercedes Romero is a Hispanic female originally from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mercedes is currently a freshman at Fort Lewis College majoring in Public Health. In addition to being a Senator, she is highly involved in the campus community as a member of WellPAC, FAB, Homecoming Committee, and as Secretary of the Pre-Health Professions Club. Upon graduating from Fort Lewis College, she aspires to attend Medical School to become a Radiologist. As a Senator, Romero seeks to represent the Hispanic minorities at Fort Lewis College. She is passionate about issues relating to equality among Fort Lewis students. One of her intentions as a senator is to be a resource to students when trying to find ways to get involved and any concerns they may have during their time at Fort Lewis.
